A crane prepares to lower a boat named Wiki Wiki into Lake Michigan on Friday. The boat's owner, Nancy Bryan of Oconomowoc, has been sailing for 25 years and says she is eager to get out on the lake again. Milwaukee Community Sailing Center's "Big Boat Day" kicks off the start of the summer boating season as more than 25 large sailboats are lifted by crane into Lake Michigan. The sailing center's staff and volunteers help owners get their crafts in the water.
